

A THOUGHT
Trust not him that hath once broken faith.—Shakespeare.

Hope Star

WEATHER
Arkansas—Partly cloudy, cold, cold wave in south and east portions with temperatures four to eight in the north and 12 to 16 in the south portion Friday night; Saturday cloudy with rising temperature.

VOLUME 37—NUMBER 107

(AP)—Menas Associated Press
(INEA)—Stearns Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n

HOPE, ARKANSAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1936

Star of Hope 1899; Press, 1927.
Consolidated January 14, 1930.

PRICE 5c COPY

OUT OF GAS. AVIATOR JUMPS

T. A. Gray Files as Candidate for U. S. Senate Post

Batesville Attorney to Oppose Robinson in August Primary

TWO OTHERS IN RACE

32 Legislators Favor Special Session for Centennial Fund

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—A third candidate announced Friday for the August Democratic senatorial primary in which Democratic Leader Joe T. Robinson is expected to seek re-election when Thimberry A. Gray, Batesville attorney, filed his corrupt practices pledge.

Gray became the first candidate for the office to file his pledge.

Cleveland Holland of Fort Smith, and Ross Venable of Little Rock, have previously announced their candidacy for the office, but have not filed practices pledges.

Centennial Poll

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Governor Fu-rell said Friday that 32 of 53 legislators replying to a special session poll have advised him that they would vote for a $300,000 appropriation from the contractor's claim fund to help finance the Arkansas centennial. Fourteen of the legislators opposed the plan.

Smith Bill Approved

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The senate agriculture committee Friday overruled opposition of government officials, approved the Smith bill directing the sale of approximately 5,000,000 bales of government-owned cotton in weekly blocks of between 25,000 and 25,000 bales. The vote was 12 to 2.

Farm Bill Amended

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The senate
Friday adopted an amendment to the new $500,000,000 farm bill, giving Comptroller McCall authority to audit payments to farmers and to pass on questions of law in the proposed act.

Approve Neutrality Bill

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The house foreign affairs committee unanimously approved Friday a bill to extend the present neutrality law until May 1, 1937, with additional provisions restricting loans and credits to belligerents and exempting Latin American nations at war with non-American countries.

Three Men Held in Bank Robbery

Trio Accused for $700
Holdup of Horatio
State Bank

TEXARKANA, Ark.—(AP)—Three men, accused of participation in the $700 robbery of the Horatio State bank at Horatio, November 27, were held in the Federal Grand Jury Thursday and their bonds fixed at $5,000 each.

The three, Ted Putrell, 30, Eagle-town, Okla.; Ernest Busby, 30, Goldfield, Okla.; and Erroll Holmes, 31, Ida-bel, Okla., were arraigned before United States Commissioner S. A.
Phillips. They had not posted bail
Thursday night.

Busby and Holmes pleaded guilty and Putrell not guilty.

Putrell was arrested by Agent S. A.
Hudson of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, while Busby and Holmes were transferred here from Sevier county. They pleaded guilty to similar charges in Circuit Court there Wednesday.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

HEG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Fly to Aid of Birds

Aerial bomb target practice was resorted to to save the life of wild fowl facing starvation because snow and ice covered natural feeding grounds in northern New Jersey. National Guard pilots flew over game habitats and dropped bags of feed much as they would bombs in wartime. Shown loading a plane at Newark are left to right, Game Commissioner Harry Armstrong, Dr. Phil Gootenberg, of the Consolidated Sportsmen of New Jersey; George C. Warren, president of the Game Commission, and Game Warden Roy Williams.

Bundy Escapes Truck Accident

Front Tire Blows Out Causing Machine to Leave Road

Newt Bundy of Hope and a negro helper escaped injury Friday afternoon when a truck in which they were riding left the road and overturned six feet west of here on the Fulton highway.

Bundy was en route to Hope from Texarkana with a load of fertilizer when a front tire blew out, causing him to lose control.

The truck left the road and overturned once, landing on its side. The machine was damaged considerably.

Garland Bridge Suit Dismissed

Federal Judge Reverses
State Supreme Court Decision

ST. LOUIS.—(AP)—Reversing an Arkansas federal district court's judgment, the United States circuit court of appeals dismissed Thursday the Kansas City Bridge company's $120,- 805 suit against the Arkansas Highway Commission in connection with the reconstruction of a Red river bridge near Garland City, Ark.

Judge John B. Sanborn in a written opinion held that the district court was without jurisdiction to entertain the suit. The bridge firm sought judgment as result of partial destruction of the bridge by dynamite.

However, the bridge had not been accepted by the state at the time of the blasting.

The opinion said, "this suit must be held to be, in effect, a suit against the state of Arkansas and, since the state is not a citizen, there is no diversity of citizenship and no jurisdiction."

Judge Sanborn held that an Arkansas state supreme court ruling made before filing of the suit, to the effect that the highway commission was a legal entity subject to suit was contrary to a United States supreme court decision in a similar case against the Wyoming Highway Commission.

In other dictum comment, Judge Sanborn pointed out that the Arkansas supreme court, subsequent to filing of the suit, "overruling all its former opinions to the contrary, held the commission an agency of the state, that suit against it was a suit against the state and that, under the constitution of Arkansas, the state could not consent to be sued."

Country Club Members to Meet Friday Night

Members of the Hope Country club will meet at 7:30 p. m. Friday at Hope city hall to outline activities for the new year.

Several important problems will come before the meeting. All the members of the club are urged to attend.

The "Dry" Side We Have Repeal Without Reform Says Rev. Davidson

1923-26 Methodist Pastor
Presents Prohibition Case

MONEY AND LIQUOR

License Tax Is an Immoral Means of Running the Government

By REV. W. C. DAVIDSON

The writer was a citizen of Hope from 1923 to 1926, and pastor of the First Methodist church of that city.

That was in the days of prohibition.
Since then we have had repeal, but not reform. People all over the nation are awaking to the fact that they were deceived and misled by the repealists and are in worse shape now than they ever were under the rule of prohibition. Hence they are renewing their fight against this everlasting enemy of the liquor traffic.

Temporarily county is mobilizing her forces for a decisive battle within a few days. The writer still has interests and friends in Hope and Hempstead county and upon their invitation is glad to speak in the interest of their cause.

Opposes License System

The writer is opposed to the license system of dealing with the liquor traffic for several self-evident reasons. (1) The promiscuous use and sale of alcoholic liquors are fundamental evils. We do not need alcoholic liquors for any other than chemical and mechanical purposes, and their manufacture and sale for any other purpose should be prohibited.

(2) I am opposed to the license system because it is an immoral means or method of procuring revenue to run the government, even if it were commercially profitable. (3) As a source of revenue it is elusive and uncertain; the liquor traffic destroyed more wealth than it produces;
in the end, therefore, it leads to economic as well as moral bankruptcy.

(4) I am opposed to the license system because for a sum of money it is willing to encourage intemperance and drunkenness with the countless evils that go with them. (5) Because the license system encourages law-violation of every kind. It has the right name—"license," or liberty to do as you please about it. (6) Because it promises to correct all the evils of the liquor traffic, such as intemperance, drunkenness, bootlegging, crime, etc., when really it encourages and produces these things.

Men who wish personally to profit by the liquor traffic are willing to promise any and everything for the privilege of manufacturing and selling liquor. (7) I am opposed to the license system because it is always supported in every contest by liquor dealers, drunkards, bootleggers, gamblers, white-slavers, gangsters, and criminals of every kind, and the self-seeking politician. This is not the company I choose to keep.

Prohibition Prohibits

I am a prohibitionist, and have always been a prohibitionist. Prohibition does prohibit. I am for prohibition for the following reasons: (1) Prohibition cuts down the liquor traffic; it condemns, denounces, and forbids it any place in the social system.
General Sherman said, "War is hell."
The liquor traffic is worse than war.

(2) Prohibition encourages temperance, sobriety, self-control. It removes temptation to drink from men and women, thus to help weak men and to protect unsuspecting youth. (3) Prohibition creates against the liquor traffic with more of less effectiveness, not for it. Prohibition does prohibit if it does anything. Its effectiveness depends upon the vigilance, energetic and activity of its supporters.

(4) Prohibition stands for law-observance, law-enforcement, and good neighborliness. (5) Prohibition is altruistic, not self-centered and self-seeking in the liquor traffic. (6) Prohibition is constructive, not destructive.

(7) Finally, I am for prohibition because it puts me in the company of the best people in the community.

Some one may, and probably will,
say these statements are assertions and not proofs. I leave it to the reader to say whether these statements are true or not. An attorney general of the United States said, "We do not know that prohibition is effective at least to realize this fact, we must only walk down the street and see for ourselves." The affirmation of prohibition may thus be authenticated by any person who has seen it and a desire to know the truth.

Conservation Head Addresses Rotary

Craig Rosborough Outlines the Need for Checking Erosion

Craig Rosborough, project manager of the U. S. F. Conservation Service in Hope, continued to the Rotary club Friday noon in Hotel Balfour the vital place in American economic life that the soil conservation program holds.

Presented on a program arranged by J. R. Henry, Mr. Rosborough traced the movement of payrolls, leaving power and all other evidences of metropolitan wealth, back their original source in the good earth of America.

The role of the decline in soil fertility due to neglect and erosion, and produced charts covering the various problems before the Soil Conservation Service.

Rotary Visitors Friday were W. C.
Bates, of Camden; and the Rev. Fred
Frank O'Brien, Ed Berry and W.
J. McMullen, of Texarkana.

Mr. O'Neal Beats the Dutch!

How the Exempting of Liquor From Tax Would Affect Other Taxes, Is Told on Page 2.

Copyright 1936, A. H. Washburn; reproduction, either wholly or in part, forbidden without written permission of the copyright owner.

I GUARANTEED the prohibitionists the right to present their case in this newspaper, either on the front page or inside.
Free of cost.

They have done so.

I gave them, among other things, a front-page column alongside this editorial position, to use daily—and they have used it.

This is a public debate, on a policy of government, on the avowed public positions of men; and the evidence—the only evidence—is public assertions, public figures . . . things that can be proved or disproved.

And yet, on February 12, the prohibitionists sent down to my office, for use in their front-page column, a rambling account of a private conversation N. P.
O'Neal was said to have had with me.

How can I possibly disprove that I said those things?

How can Mr. O'Neal possibly prove that I did?

I doubt if there is another living man in Hempstead county who, owning this newspaper, would have printed against himself the dirty, untrue and malicious story that Mr. O'Neal wrote about me.

And yet, I had given my word to the prohibitionists. It was their front-page space—and I kept my word, printing Mr.
O'Neal's "confidential report" even when it accused me of being disloyal and impudent to my own father.

MR. O'NEAL wrote this about me:

"However, when his own father, who he says is a rabid dry, protests his own course, he turns it aside by saying, 'This is another generation, you old fogies.'"

Why mention my father?

I have not mentioned Mr. O'Neal's brothers, or his sons—or any other thing of his or mine that might seem to a devout man to be too precious to be risked in the dirty amphitheater of politics.

I need only to tell you that my father is The Star's banker—the only person in the world to whom either the newspaper or myself owes a dime. I have never lost any money for him. I have come through a panic safely. I will leave it to the rest of you fathers to imagine how mine feels about me—and you can at your leisure measure the full impudence of Mr.
O'Neal's attempt to come between a father and his son in a public debate.

There was only one whisky bottle in our home. Mother used it to make camphor with—treating cut fingers and skinned knees.

There was never a drop of liquor drunk in that home—although in our county
there were eleven hundred open saloons.
And there were throughout America millions of homes like ours, defying and beating the worst efforts of the old saloon evil.
America has changed since then.

More homes served liquor in the closing years of the prohibition era than ever before, apparently. Liquor was outlawed—therefore it was "smart" to drink it.

MR. O'NEAL said:

"When I suggested months ago an election to vote on the liquor question the editor said offhand: 'I'll beat you to a frazzle. I'll spend a thousand dollars of my own money and placead every mailbox in this county.'"

Another of Mr. O'Neal's "confidential reports."

Certainly I would oppose a local option election. Local option can destroy a law, but local option can not create a new one to take its place. That is the province of the legislature—and the prohibitionists refused to compromise in the legislature.

Mo. Pac. Farm Agent to Help in Dairying

John V. Nevitt, agricultural development agent of the Missouri Pacific, who worked in conjunction with the old Arkansas Bank & Trust Co. in 1921 when introducing new pedigreed Jersey bulls to the livestock herds of this county, was in Hope Friday laying plans for field work in connection with the proposed Phenix-Kraft corporation cheese factory here.

Receive Highway Bids

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Bids will be received Friday by the state highway commission on eight highway projects in seven counties.

Contracts are scheduled to be awarded as the contracts which are in Reservation, DeShazo (2), Crittenden, Bradley, Marion, Garland and Arkansas counties.

But when Mr. O'Neal told me, during this "confidential" conversation, that he like myself favored a state dispensary plan, and that he proposed to tell the people that the way to get it was through a local option election, then I did get indignant—for it was a flat misrepresentation.

I have already given you the record.
And finally, Mr. O'Neal referred to me as "one of those folks from among the Dutch."

The Dutch are a fine people. Unfortunately, there are in Pennsylvania only about as many Dutchmen as there are non-drinking people in Arkansas—so I could hardly be a Dutchman. As a matter of fact, I am one-quarter Scotch, one-quarter Kentucky, and the other half is Pennsylvania-English or what-have-you.

MR. O'NEAL has been speaking to you of private conversations he had with me.

But Mr. O'Neal is on public record in this community in a matter which I shall now publish.

The summer of 1933, when Arkansas legalized beer, this newspaper posted a notice with its national advertising agents that it would forbid whisky advertisements regardless of how the law was changed.

We have lived up to our published pledge, rejecting $1,465.32 of liquor advertising in 1935.

But about Mr. O'Neal? Let's see how he lived up to his position as a dry fanatic in a business way.

That same summer of 1933, when beer was legalized and when The Star laid its prohibition on liquor advertising, Mr.
O'Neal called me out of bed early one Sunday morning and asked me to attend an important meeting of the men's class at the Methodist church.

When I got down there I found about 40 men of this city. Sid Bundy was president. All the rest of you are witnesses to what I am now about to relate.

Mr. O'Neal got up and told the class something like this:

"Up in Gurdin I have a brick building. It is leased to a lady to be used as a hotel. The lease says she can't sell intoxicating drinks. Now she tells me somebody else up there in Gurdin is selling beer, and if she can't sell beer she is going to vacate the hotel and leave a good Methodist with a vacant building . . . Gentlemen, this has weighed heavily on me. I've wrestled with it all night—and now I've come here to ask you to make the decision."

Mr. O'Neal got some hard knocks from those men—they resented his bringing a private business matter into the church, seeking the church's blessing!

I told him, when he called on me, that the decision would be his own. I told him that of the 40 men in that class there were at least 30 who, to my own certain knowledge took a drink.

Last November, two and a half years later, I stopped Mr. O'Neal on the street and asked him, "How did it all come out?"
"The lady," said Mr. O'Neal, "sold beer."

And yet, my $1,465.32 worth of rejected whisky advertising was worth as much to me as Mr. O'Neal's Gurdin hotel.

Three things have I never done:
I have never taken a penny from the liquor people.

I have never defended a known boot-legger before the circuit courts of my county.

I have never gone to church to justify a business action which in my own heart
I thought to be wrong.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The condition of Secretary Swanson, gravely ill with pleurisy, was reported much improved Friday. A spokesman said that he was getting along fine.

ROME.—(AP)—Infanta Beatriz gave birth Friday to a girl which is the first grandchild of former King Alfonso of Spain.

MUSKOGEE, Okla.—(AP)—Dewey Gilmore and Russell Cooper, alleged O'Malley gangsters, were convicted Friday of conspiracy in the death of Ben Bolton, Muskogee detective chief, during a blood red fight break here December 3, and sentenced to 99 years in imprisonment.

LAKESIDE, N. J.—(AP)—Out of the black ruins of the Victoria Mansion hotel a band of WPA workers and freemen dug three more bodies Thursday bringing to 10 the total of know-dead in the Lincoln Day fire.

3 More Bodies Found

Weather Patrol Ship Crashes on Old Fulton Road

Lieut. H. M. Burkhalter, of Barksdale Field, Escapes Uninjured

FROM 17,000 FEET

High Winds on Night Patrol Had Blown Him Off His Course

An Army weather patrol plane blown off its course by high winds at 17,000 feet ran out of gas, the pilot
"bailed out" in a parachute, and the empty ship glided to a muddy landing on the Temple farm, old Fulton gravel road, ten miles west of Hope, at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Lieutenant H. M. Burkhalter, Jr., of Barksdale Field, Shreveport, the pilot, told The Star that he took off from Barksdale every morning at 2:30 o'clock and flew to an elevation of 17,000 feet, making continuous radio reports to his base.

He was caught in high winds above the clouds Friday morning and blown off his course. His gas ran out at 4,000 feet while he was searching for a landing—and he jumped with his parachute at 1,500 feet.

The empty plane, a single-motored,
two cockpit job, glided down, circled over the Temple farm, and skidded across a muddy field until its nose nearly rested against the barbed wire fence along old Highway 67.

The ship's fuselage was practically undamaged, but the wings and motor assembly were demolished.

The Barksdale wrecker will salvage the machine.

It was his first parachute jump.
Lieutenant Burkhalter said.

Cold Weather in North Continues

Rainstorms Bring Flood Menace to Western Coast

CHICAGO.—(AP)—A new cold wave crept across the United States Friday to trouble the northern hemisphere which is already suffering from earthquakes, floods, fire and frigid weather.

Hundreds were reported dead on the upper half of the world from California to China.

Rainstorms brought Pacific coast floods and landslides.

Zero temperatures moved eastward from the Rockies.

Blizzards swept across Europe and Asia Minor, causing 78 deaths in Turkey.

The Southwest part of the United States had dust storms.

Bodcaw Team Will Meet Hope Monday

Nevada County Quintet
Said to Have 30-Game Winning Streak

The crack Bodcaw High School busketball team, reported to have a winning streak of 30 consecutive games, will meet the Hope High School cage squad Monday night in the high school gymnasium here.

Reports say that the Bodcaw school has one of its best teams in history, having won three invitational tournaments already this season.

Coach Hammons of Hope completed arrangements for the game Friday and was promised that a large delegation of Bodcaw supporters would accompany the team to Hope.

Featuring the Bodcaw quintet is Goodwin, center, who stands 6 feet and five inches tall. Goodwin is the leading point maker with an average of 25 points per game, reports said.

A game between Fatmos and Center Point has been arranged as a preliminary.

The B-beats will go to Texarkana
Friday night, Reece, Hope forward, who has been ill for the past week,
has returned to the lineup.

Hearing on Motor Bus Permit to Continue

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The Arkansas
"unofficial" Commission will continue Friday a hearing on petition of the Arkansas Motor Car Co., Ltd., Little Rock, for authority to operate a motor bus line in interstate business between Texarkana and Memphis.

The hearing started Thursday morning with testimony by the Missouri Pacific Transportation company, the Greyhound Lines, Inc. and other passenger bus operators who are serving sections of the route proposed to be served by the company.

Hope Star

O Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by Star Publishing Co., Inc.
 C. E. Palmer & Alex. H. Washburn, at The Star Building, 212-214 South Walnut street, Hope, Arkansas.

C. E. PALMER, President
 ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas
 Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Definition: "The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely circulated advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col. R. R. McCormick.

Subscription Rate (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week 15c; per month 65c; one year $6.50. By mail, prepaid, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $6.50.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representatives: Arkansas Dailies, Inc., Memphis, Tenn., Sterick Bldg., New York City, 369 Lexington, Chicago, Ill., 75 E. Wacker Drive; Detroit, Mich., 338 Woodward Ave.; St. Louis, Mo., Star Bldg.

Charges on Tributes, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Nothing distresses a person going on a diet so much as to fact at his first meals the list of all the things that he cannot eat. Usually it appears to contain practically all the things that he would like to eat, and to leave very little else.

But this isn't the case. Here, for instance, is a list of foods commonly permitted to people placed on a smooth and soft, or bland, diet.

The foods in this list are very low in their amount of cellulose or undigestible fiber, are easily available, not difficult to prepare, and exclude irritating substances.

Beverages: Milk, buttermilk, fruit juices, weak coffee or tea, decaffeinated or cereal coffee.

Soups: Any kind of meat soup (strained), tomato soup, vegetable soup (strained); cream soups made with cream and pureed vegetables.

Breads: White bread, plain rolls, toast or crackers, zwieback.

Eggs: Coddled, soft-boiled, poached, raw, or scrambled.

Fats: Butter, cream, oleomargarine, olive oil.

Cereals: Cornflakes, cream of wheat, farina, oatmeal.

Fruits: All fruit juices, applesauce.

Vegetables: Raw endive, lettuce, romaine, watercress; cooked and sieved asparagus, lima beans, carrots, spinach, peas, squash, sweet and white potatoes.

Meats: Broiled steak, roast beef, lamb, mutton, or chicken (broiled, boiled, or roasted).

Fish: Any fresh fish; baked, broiled, or boiled.

Cheese: Cottage cheese or cream cheese.

Here are sample menus for those who want a bland diet:

Breakfast
 Bland fruit juice, cooked cereal (without bran), soft-cooked egg, white bread (toast), butter; weak coffee, tea, or cocoa; small amount sugar.

Today's Health Question
 Q.—More than a year ago my wife was operated on for appendicitis. Since then she has had a great deal of pain. Do you believe another operation will be necessary?

A.—In such a case, it is not possible to give intelligent advice without a personal examination. The pain which the woman has suffered since her operation for appendicitis probably is due to adhesions, which frequently follow abdominal operations and sometimes cause pain and distress for many months after the operation is performed. This occurs even when the operation is done by the wisest and most skillful surgeons. It is always uncertain whether a subsequent operation will bring about an improvement in the condition.

Lunch
 Cream asparagus soup, strained; cottage cheese or other cheese or custard, starchy food; sieved carrots; custard; white bread toast, butter; milk.

Dinner
 Chicken broth; lamb chop; baked potato; pureed peas; tapioca cereal; white melba toast, butter; milk.

If the dieting person is still hungry, a never-never food after this type of menu may have extra meals of eggnog at 10 in the morning at 3 in the afternoon, and at 8 at night.

Your Children

By Olive Roberts Barton

Bill Johnson walked in. He never knocked. Living in the same building as Ted, he thought, gave him the right to make himself at home.

Ted had on his Scout suit, and an apron, helping his mother clear up the dishes. Bill walked out to the kitchen.

"Well, if you're not a sight," he laughed. "A soldier turned bus boy."

Ted grinned but shot back, "Well, I'm no ordinary citizen, anyway. Why don't you come and join the Scouts? Do you good?"

"Who? Me? Do a good act a day and be loyal and honest and upright and get marks and badges for being good? Huh! That's kid stuff. I guess I can be all that without wearin' a uniform and a big hat. Come on and let's go to the movie. Chuck your meeting for once and come on. I dare you to see if you can call your soul your own."

In One Ear, Out the Other
 Ted's mother said, "Bill, I want you to let Ted alone. There is not a bit of use in your telling him he isn't manly for being a Scout. Or a sissy for helping me with the dishes when I have aheadache. You always seem to be stirring up something."

The intercepted a wink toward Ted which seemed to say, "All right, I'm listening because she's your mother. But you digest what I've said about all this good boy stuff. You should be free to do as you please, as I am."

She was furious, but said nothing further. It wasn't only tonight that worried her. Bill with a happy-go-lucky but strong personality had always had a hold over Ted. He had a certain magnetism that pulled other boys as the moon pulls the tide. No one could quite put a finger on the trouble with Bill, but he was an expert in making others feel thoroughly ashamed of themselves when they were doing their duty. He was thoroughly lazy and too smart to study. The "tomater" type, too, who used others for his own ends.

Bill would go over to Art's she knew, when he failed with Ted, and act the same with him. Art had to practice for the school concert this evening, he had said; but the chances were that Bill would hood him down and get him in the end.

"When he had gone she said to Ted, "I wonder why all the boys like Bill so much. Why do you?"

"He's a swell fellow, mom. The most popular boy in school. The rest of them would do anything in the world for him. Teachers too."

Seems Others' Ideals
 "Ted," she said seriously, "you are going, so there is not much use in telling you to watch out for the ruinous pleasant people of the world. But don't you think there is something wrong when a boy ridicules everything everybody else holds sacred? Haven't you noticed that he never praises anybody for anything that seems fine and right?"

Ted untied his apron, and got into his overcoat. Then he came and stood before his mother. "Mom," he said, "I believe you're right. I'd never thought of it, but there is a lot of trouble wherever Bill goes. I'll do what I want after this and tell him to let me alone."

But what about those weaker boys? If parents are wise they will watch the influence that threatens their children.

A Book a Day

By Bruce Catton

The ancient land of China seems to have an odd effect on the writing men who go there. Either they get obsessed with war lords, bundits, and provincial dictators, or they come home with a never-never look in their eyes and babble gaily of the romance, the glamour, and the general what's-it of the inscrutable east.

Daniel Vane seems to be in the latter class, and his new novel—it has the pleasing title of "The Maker of Heavenly Trousers"—is the logical result.

This book, dreamily indolent, tells about a young European who sets up housekeeping in an old Chinese home in a quarter of Peking which has not yet become westernized. He acquires chests full of rare old silks and velvets, a household of grating servants, and a golden-haired young ward, the daughter of an Italian official on a leave of absence.

Then it seems, another young European, dying of an incurable disease, falls in love with the gal and finds a mysterious Lamaist abbot who makes

Glorifying Yourself

By Alicia Hart

A spirit tonic which stimulates you mentally and physically, putting a shining quality into your eyes and making your smile infectious, doesn't necessarily have to be a medicine or a diet. It may be a fine book that sets your mind at work in a new and fascinating fashion. Or a vacation. Or a new friend.

Late last spring I saw a woman who looked as though she had been sleeping soundly and taking outdoor exercise with a vengeance. Her skin

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Nothing distresses a person going on a diet so much as to fact at his first meals the list of all the things that he cannot eat. Usually it appears to contain practically all the things that he would like to eat, and to leave very little else.

But this isn't the case. Here, for instance, is a list of foods commonly permitted to people placed on a smooth and soft, or bland, diet.

The foods in this list are very low in their amount of cellulose or undigestible fiber, are easily available, not difficult to prepare, and exclude irritating substances.

Beverages: Milk, buttermilk, fruit juices, weak coffee or tea, decaffeinated or cereal coffee.

Soups: Any kind of meat soup (strained), tomato soup, vegetable soup (strained); cream soups made with cream and pureed vegetables.

Breads: White bread, plain rolls, toast or crackers, zwieback.

Eggs: Coddled, soft-boiled, poached, raw, or scrambled.

Fats: Butter, cream, oleomargarine, olive oil.

Cereals: Cornflakes, cream of wheat, farina, oatmeal.

Fruits: All fruit juices, applesauce.

Vegetables: Raw endive, lettuce, romaine, watercress; cooked and sieved asparagus, lima beans, carrots, spinach, peas, squash, sweet and white potatoes.

Meats: Broiled steak, roast beef, lamb, mutton, or chicken (broiled, boiled, or roasted).

Fish: Any fresh fish; baked, broiled, or boiled.

Cheese: Cottage cheese or cream cheese.

Here are sample menus for those who want a bland diet:

Breakfast
 Bland fruit juice, cooked cereal (without bran), soft-cooked egg, white bread (toast), butter; weak coffee, tea, or cocoa; small amount sugar.

Today's Health Question
 Q.—More than a year ago my wife was operated on for appendicitis. Since then she has had a great deal of pain. Do you believe another operation will be necessary?

A.—In such a case, it is not possible to give intelligent advice without a personal examination. The pain which the woman has suffered since her operation for appendicitis probably is due to adhesions, which frequently follow abdominal operations and sometimes cause pain and distress for many months after the operation is performed. This occurs even when the operation is done by the wisest and most skillful surgeons. It is always uncertain whether a subsequent operation will bring about an improvement in the condition.

Lunch
 Cream asparagus soup, strained; cottage cheese or other cheese or custard, starchy food; sieved carrots; custard; white bread toast, butter; milk.

Dinner
 Chicken broth; lamb chop; baked potato; pureed peas; tapioca cereal; white melba toast, butter; milk.

If the dieting person is still hungry, a never-never food after this type of menu may have extra meals of eggnog at 10 in the morning at 3 in the afternoon, and at 8 at night.

Your Children

By Olive Roberts Barton

Bill Johnson walked in. He never knocked. Living in the same building as Ted, he thought, gave him the right to make himself at home.

Ted had on his Scout suit, and an apron, helping his mother clear up the dishes. Bill walked out to the kitchen.

"Well, if you're not a sight," he laughed. "A soldier turned bus boy."

Ted grinned but shot back, "Well, I'm no ordinary citizen, anyway. Why don't you come and join the Scouts? Do you good?"

"Who? Me? Do a good act a day and be loyal and honest and upright and get marks and badges for being good? Huh! That's kid stuff. I guess I can be all that without wearin' a uniform and a big hat. Come on and let's go to the movie. Chuck your meeting for once and come on. I dare you to see if you can call your soul your own."

In One Ear, Out the Other
 Ted's mother said, "Bill, I want you to let Ted alone. There is not a bit of use in your telling him he isn't manly for being a Scout. Or a sissy for helping me with the dishes when I have aheadache. You always seem to be stirring up something."

The intercepted a wink toward Ted which seemed to say, "All right, I'm listening because she's your mother. But you digest what I've said about all this good boy stuff. You should be free to do as you please, as I am."

She was furious, but said nothing further. It wasn't only tonight that worried her. Bill with a happy-go-lucky but strong personality had always had a hold over Ted. He had a certain magnetism that pulled other boys as the moon pulls the tide. No one could quite put a finger on the trouble with Bill, but he was an expert in making others feel thoroughly ashamed of themselves when they were doing their duty. He was thoroughly lazy and too smart to study. The "tomater" type, too, who used others for his own ends.

Bill would go over to Art's she knew, when he failed with Ted, and act the same with him. Art had to practice for the school concert this evening, he had said; but the chances were that Bill would hood him down and get him in the end.

"When he had gone she said to Ted, "I wonder why all the boys like Bill so much. Why do you?"

"He's a swell fellow, mom. The most popular boy in school. The rest of them would do anything in the world for him. Teachers too."

Seems Others' Ideals
 "Ted," she said seriously, "you are going, so there is not much use in telling you to watch out for the ruinous pleasant people of the world. But don't you think there is something wrong when a boy ridicules everything everybody else holds sacred? Haven't you noticed that he never praises anybody for anything that seems fine and right?"

Ted untied his apron, and got into his overcoat. Then he came and stood before his mother. "Mom," he said, "I believe you're right. I'd never thought of it, but there is a lot of trouble wherever Bill goes. I'll do what I want after this and tell him to let me alone."

But what about those weaker boys? If parents are wise they will watch the influence that threatens their children.

A Book a Day

By Bruce Catton

The ancient land of China seems to have an odd effect on the writing men who go there. Either they get obsessed with war lords, bundits, and provincial dictators, or they come home with a never-never look in their eyes and babble gaily of the romance, the glamour, and the general what's-it of the inscrutable east.

Daniel Vane seems to be in the latter class, and his new novel—it has the pleasing title of "The Maker of Heavenly Trousers"—is the logical result.

This book, dreamily indolent, tells about a young European who sets up housekeeping in an old Chinese home in a quarter of Peking which has not yet become westernized. He acquires chests full of rare old silks and velvets, a household of grating servants, and a golden-haired young ward, the daughter of an Italian official on a leave of absence.

Then it seems, another young European, dying of an incurable disease, falls in love with the gal and finds a mysterious Lamaist abbot who makes

Glorifying Yourself

By Alicia Hart

A spirit tonic which stimulates you mentally and physically, putting a shining quality into your eyes and making your smile infectious, doesn't necessarily have to be a medicine or a diet. It may be a fine book that sets your mind at work in a new and fascinating fashion. Or a vacation. Or a new friend.

Late last spring I saw a woman who looked as though she had been sleeping soundly and taking outdoor exercise with a vengeance. Her skin

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Nothing distresses a person going on a diet so much as to fact at his first meals the list of all the things that he cannot eat. Usually it appears to contain practically all the things that he would like to eat, and to leave very little else.

But this isn't the case. Here, for instance, is a list of foods commonly permitted to people placed on a smooth and soft, or bland, diet.

The foods in this list are very low in their amount of cellulose or undigestible fiber, are easily available, not difficult to prepare, and exclude irritating substances.

Beverages: Milk, buttermilk, fruit juices, weak coffee or tea, decaffeinated or cereal coffee.

Soups: Any kind of meat soup (strained), tomato soup, vegetable soup (strained); cream soups made with cream and pureed vegetables.

Breads: White bread, plain rolls, toast or crackers, zwieback.

Eggs: Coddled, soft-boiled, poached, raw, or scrambled.

Fats: Butter, cream, oleomargarine, olive oil.

Cereals: Cornflakes, cream of wheat, farina, oatmeal.

Fruits: All fruit juices, applesauce.

Vegetables: Raw endive, lettuce, romaine, watercress; cooked and sieved asparagus, lima beans, carrots, spinach, peas, squash, sweet and white potatoes.

Meats: Broiled steak, roast beef, lamb, mutton, or chicken (broiled, boiled, or roasted).

Fish: Any fresh fish; baked, broiled, or boiled.

Cheese: Cottage cheese or cream cheese.

Here are sample menus for those who want a bland diet:

Breakfast
 Bland fruit juice, cooked cereal (without bran), soft-cooked egg, white bread (toast), butter; weak coffee, tea, or cocoa; small amount sugar.

Today's Health Question
 Q.—More than a year ago my wife was operated on for appendicitis. Since then she has had a great deal of pain. Do you believe another operation will be necessary?

A.—In such a case, it is not possible to give intelligent advice without a personal examination. The pain which the woman has suffered since her operation for appendicitis probably is due to adhesions, which frequently follow abdominal operations and sometimes cause pain and distress for many months after the operation is performed. This occurs even when the operation is done by the wisest and most skillful surgeons. It is always uncertain whether a subsequent operation will bring about an improvement in the condition.

Lunch
 Cream asparagus soup, strained; cottage cheese or other cheese or custard, starchy food; sieved carrots; custard; white bread toast, butter; milk.

Dinner
 Chicken broth; lamb chop; baked potato; pureed peas; tapioca cereal; white melba toast, butter; milk.

If the dieting person is still hungry, a never-never food after this type of menu may have extra meals of eggnog at 10 in the morning at 3 in the afternoon, and at 8 at night.

A Book a Day

By Bruce Catton

The ancient land of China seems to have an odd effect on the writing men who go there. Either they get obsessed with war lords, bundits, and provincial dictators, or they come home with a never-never look in their eyes and babble gaily of the romance, the glamour, and the general what's-it of the inscrutable east.

Daniel Vane seems to be in the latter class, and his new novel—it has the pleasing title of "The Maker of Heavenly Trousers"—is the logical result.

This book, dreamily indolent, tells about a young European who sets up housekeeping in an old Chinese home in a quarter of Peking which has not yet become westernized. He acquires chests full of rare old silks and velvets, a household of grating servants, and a golden-haired young ward, the daughter of an Italian official on a leave of absence.

Then it seems, another young European, dying of an incurable disease, falls in love with the gal and finds a mysterious Lamaist abbot who makes

Glorifying Yourself

By Alicia Hart

A spirit tonic which stimulates you mentally and physically, putting a shining quality into your eyes and making your smile infectious, doesn't necessarily have to be a medicine or a diet. It may be a fine book that sets your mind at work in a new and fascinating fashion. Or a vacation. Or a new friend.

Late last spring I saw a woman who looked as though she had been sleeping soundly and taking outdoor exercise with a vengeance. Her skin

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Nothing distresses a person going on a diet so much as to fact at his first meals the list of all the things that he cannot eat. Usually it appears to contain practically all the things that he would like to eat, and to leave very little else.

But this isn't the case. Here, for instance, is a list of foods commonly permitted to people placed on a smooth and soft, or bland, diet.

The foods in this list are very low in their amount of cellulose or undigestible fiber, are easily available, not difficult to prepare, and exclude irritating substances.

Beverages: Milk, buttermilk, fruit juices, weak coffee or tea, decaffeinated or cereal coffee.

Soups: Any kind of meat soup (strained), tomato soup, vegetable soup (strained); cream soups made with cream and pureed vegetables.

Breads: White bread, plain rolls, toast or crackers, zwieback.

Eggs: Coddled, soft-boiled, poached, raw, or scrambled.

Fats: Butter, cream, oleomargarine, olive oil.

Cereals: Cornflakes, cream of wheat, farina, oatmeal.

Fruits: All fruit juices, applesauce.

Vegetables: Raw endive, lettuce, romaine, watercress; cooked and sieved asparagus, lima beans, carrots, spinach, peas, squash, sweet and white potatoes.

Meats: Broiled steak, roast beef, lamb, mutton, or chicken (broiled, boiled, or roasted).

Fish: Any fresh fish; baked, broiled, or boiled.

Cheese: Cottage cheese or cream cheese.

Here are sample menus for those who want a bland diet:

Breakfast
 Bland fruit juice, cooked cereal (without bran), soft-cooked egg, white bread (toast), butter; weak coffee, tea, or cocoa; small amount sugar.

Today's Health Question
 Q.—More than a year ago my wife was operated on for appendicitis. Since then she has had a great deal of pain. Do you believe another operation will be necessary?

A.—In such a case, it is not possible to give intelligent advice without a personal examination. The pain which the woman has suffered since her operation for appendicitis probably is due to adhesions, which frequently follow abdominal operations and sometimes cause pain and distress for many months after the operation is performed. This occurs even when the operation is done by the wisest and most skillful surgeons. It is always uncertain whether a subsequent operation will bring about an improvement in the condition.

Lunch
 Cream asparagus soup, strained; cottage cheese or other cheese or custard, starchy food; sieved carrots; custard; white bread toast, butter; milk.

Dinner
 Chicken broth; lamb chop; baked potato; pureed peas; tapioca cereal; white melba toast, butter; milk.

If the dieting person is still hungry, a never-never food after this type of menu may have extra meals of eggnog at 10 in the morning at 3 in the afternoon, and at 8 at night.

A Book a Day

By Bruce Catton

The ancient land of China seems to have an odd effect on the writing men who go there. Either they get obsessed with war lords, bundits, and provincial dictators, or they come home with a never-never look in their eyes and babble gaily of the romance, the glamour, and the general what's-it of the inscrutable east.

Daniel Vane seems to be in the latter class, and his new novel—it has the pleasing title of "The Maker of Heavenly Trousers"—is the logical result.

This book, dreamily indolent, tells about a young European who sets up housekeeping in an old Chinese home in a quarter of Peking which has not yet become westernized. He acquires chests full of rare old silks and velvets, a household of grating servants, and a golden-haired young ward, the daughter of an Italian official on a leave of absence.

Then it seems, another young European, dying of an incurable disease, falls in love with the gal and finds a mysterious Lamaist abbot who makes

Glorifying Yourself

By Alicia Hart

A spirit tonic which stimulates you mentally and physically, putting a shining quality into your eyes and making your smile infectious, doesn't necessarily have to be a medicine or a diet. It may be a fine book that sets your mind at work in a new and fascinating fashion. Or a vacation. Or a new friend.

Late last spring I saw a woman who looked as though she had been sleeping soundly and taking outdoor exercise with a vengeance. Her skin

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Nothing distresses a person going on a diet so much as to fact at his first meals the list of all the things that he cannot eat. Usually it appears to contain practically all the things that he would like to eat, and to leave very little else.

But this isn't the case. Here, for instance, is a list of foods commonly permitted to people placed on a smooth and soft, or bland, diet.

The foods in this list are very low in their amount of cellulose or undigestible fiber, are easily available, not difficult to prepare, and exclude irritating substances.

Beverages: Milk, buttermilk, fruit juices, weak coffee or tea, decaffeinated or cereal coffee.

Soups: Any kind of meat soup (strained), tomato soup, vegetable soup (strained); cream soups made with cream and pureed vegetables.

Breads: White bread, plain rolls, toast or crackers, zwieback.

Eggs: Coddled, soft-boiled, poached, raw, or scrambled.

Fats: Butter, cream, oleomargarine, olive oil.

Cereals: Cornflakes, cream of wheat, farina, oatmeal.

Fruits: All fruit juices, applesauce.

Vegetables: Raw endive, lettuce, romaine, watercress; cooked and sieved asparagus, lima beans, carrots, spinach, peas, squash, sweet and white potatoes.

Meats: Broiled steak, roast beef, lamb, mutton, or chicken (broiled, boiled, or roasted).

Fish: Any fresh fish; baked, broiled, or boiled.

Cheese: Cottage cheese or cream cheese.

Here are sample menus for those who want a bland diet:

Breakfast
 Bland fruit juice, cooked cereal (without bran), soft-cooked egg, white bread (toast), butter; weak coffee, tea, or cocoa; small amount sugar.

Today's Health Question
 Q.—More than a year ago my wife was operated on for appendicitis. Since then she has had a great deal of pain. Do you believe another operation will be necessary?

A.—In such a case, it is not possible to give intelligent advice without a personal examination. The pain which the woman has suffered since her operation for appendicitis probably is due to adhesions, which frequently follow abdominal operations and sometimes cause pain and distress for many months after the operation is performed. This occurs even when the operation is done by the wisest and most skillful surgeons. It is always uncertain whether a subsequent operation will bring about an improvement in the condition.

Lunch
 Cream asparagus soup, strained; cottage cheese or other cheese or custard, starchy food; sieved carrots; custard; white bread toast, butter; milk.

Dinner
 Chicken broth; lamb chop; baked potato; pureed peas; tapioca cereal; white melba toast, butter; milk.

If the dieting person is still hungry, a never-never food after this type of menu may have extra meals of eggnog at 10 in the morning at 3 in the afternoon, and at 8 at night.

A Book a Day

By Bruce Catton

The ancient land of China seems to have an odd effect on the writing men who go there. Either they get obsessed with war lords, bundits, and provincial dictators, or they come home with a never-never look in their eyes and babble gaily of the romance, the glamour, and the general what's-it of the inscrutable east.

Daniel Vane seems to be in the latter class, and his new novel—it has the pleasing title of "The Maker of Heavenly Trousers"—is the logical result.

This book, dreamily indolent, tells about a young European who sets up housekeeping in an old Chinese home in a quarter of Peking which has not yet become westernized. He acquires chests full of rare old silks and velvets, a household of grating servants, and a golden-haired young ward, the daughter of an Italian official on a leave of absence.

Then it seems, another young European, dying of an incurable disease, falls in love with the gal and finds a mysterious Lamaist abbot who makes

Glorifying Yourself

By Alicia Hart

A spirit tonic which stimulates you mentally and physically, putting a shining quality into your eyes and making your smile infectious, doesn't necessarily have to be a medicine or a diet. It may be a fine book that sets your mind at work in a new and fascinating fashion. Or a vacation. Or a new friend.

Late last spring I saw a woman who looked as though she had been sleeping soundly and taking outdoor exercise with a vengeance. Her skin

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
 Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Nothing distresses a person going on a diet so much as to fact at his first meals the list of all the things that he cannot eat. Usually it appears to contain practically all the things that he would like to eat, and to leave very little else.

But this isn't the case. Here, for instance, is a list of foods commonly permitted to people placed on a smooth and soft, or bland, diet.

The foods in this list are very low in their amount of cellulose or undigestible fiber, are easily available, not difficult to prepare, and exclude irritating substances.

Beverages: Milk, buttermilk, fruit juices, weak coffee or tea, decaffeinated or cereal coffee.

Soups: Any kind of meat soup (strained), tomato soup, vegetable soup (strained); cream soups made with cream and pureed vegetables.

Breads: White bread, plain rolls, toast or crackers, zwieback.

Eggs: Coddled, soft-boiled, poached, raw, or scrambled.

Fats: Butter, cream, oleomargarine, olive oil.

Cereals: Cornflakes, cream of wheat, farina, oatmeal.

Fruits: All fruit juices, applesauce.

Vegetables: Raw endive, lettuce, romaine, watercress; cooked and sieved asparagus, lima beans, carrots, spinach, peas, squash, sweet and white potatoes.

Meats: Broiled steak, roast beef, lamb, mutton, or chicken (broiled, boiled, or roasted).

Fish: Any fresh fish; baked, broiled, or boiled.

Cheese: Cottage cheese or cream cheese.

Here are sample menus for those who want a bland diet:

Breakfast
 Bland fruit juice, cooked cereal (without bran), soft-cooked egg, white bread (toast), butter; weak coffee, tea, or cocoa; small amount sugar.

Today's Health Question
 Q.—More than a year ago my wife was operated on for appendicitis. Since then she has had a great deal of pain. Do you believe another operation will be necessary?

A.—In such a case, it is not possible to give intelligent advice without a personal examination. The pain which the woman has suffered since her operation for appendicitis probably is due to adhesions, which frequently follow abdominal operations and sometimes cause pain and distress for many months after the operation is performed. This occurs even when the operation is done by the wisest and most skillful surgeons. It is always uncertain whether a subsequent operation will bring about an improvement in the condition.

Lunch
 Cream asparagus soup, strained; cottage cheese or other cheese or custard, starchy food; sieved carrots; custard; white bread toast, butter; milk.

Dinner
 Chicken broth; lamb chop; baked potato; pureed peas; tapioca cereal; white melba toast, butter; milk.

If the dieting person is still hungry, a never-never food after this type of menu may have extra meals of eggnog at 10 in the morning at 3 in the afternoon, and at 8 at night.

was blooming. Her steps were light. She seemed clearly to dance when she walked. She appeared about ten years younger than she had earlier in the winter. When asked about the change, she simply said, "Well, you see, I've just learned to read."

Just learned to read! Yet here was a woman who had graduated from a fine college years before and who had held many good positions. She meant, of course, that she just had learned to enjoy, understand and retain printed words.

Her taste in literature has changed radically since then. She enjoys history, biography and the daily newspapers. Naturally, her conversation is more stimulating, and her eyes have continued to shine and sparkle. She was a nice person before. Now she is an utterly charming one.

There are others who lift themselves out of late winter doldrums into a true Easter frame of mind by taking up some outdoor sport. A weekly game of tennis or a round of golf do a good deal for drooping spirits and sallow skin. A three-day liquid diet, followed by weeks of sensible eating, will remove extra poundage which often depresses.

I like the 30-hour week because it is easier than the 48-hour week—John Jacob Astor, who quit his $23-a-week job because he had to work eight hours a day and did not have enough time for himself.

Had radio existed as it now does, William Jennings Bryan might well have become president of the United States.—Col. Frank Knox.

There has been a marked tendency in recent years to label anyone who questions our status quo a "Communist."—Dr. Marshall Reed, Detroit.

Quite obviously, the principal interest of Vickers is in making warships and instruments of war, but to carry from that to the idea that Vickers is anxious to see them used in wars is going too far.—Sir Herbert A. Lawrence, British munitions executive.

You have a good president and a bad Constitution. The bad Constitution gets the benefit of the good president.—George Bernard Shaw, Irish playwright.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 JANE WESTON loses her job as secretary to the business manager of Oceanic Magazine when the magazine suspends publication.

JERRY SEAL, her employer, tells her to take the afternoon off and hunt for another position. Jane's roommate, ALICE, makes the rounds of the employment agencies with her, but their efforts are unrewarded.

Tired and discouraged, they stop to look at a window advertisement for typewriter. Jane notices a handsome young man, also studying the display, and sees him go inside, apparently to buy a ticket.

Back at the office, the business manager tells Jane there is no cash to pay the three weeks' salary due her. He offers her, in place of the cash, a ticket for a "three weeks' ocean cruise." Jane accepts, delighted. The boat is to leave next day.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER III
 FROM the stern of the S. S. Oceanic Jane watched the great towers of the city, their tips wreathed in clouds, until they were dimmed by fog. It was enchanting, unreal, this sailing away into the unknown.

Her roommate had seen her off on the cruise. Alice had said, "This is not a cruise. For you it's a rackless adventure. When you get back to town a week from today you'll still be without a job."

Jane had scarcely listened to her. "I wonder who'll be on board!" she had said, conjuring up in her vivid imagination the romantic person ages on this cruise ship.

Now, standing on the promenade deck, watching the giant twin-screw propellers churning up the waters behind the ship, she sighed. "Get busy, old girl. Powder your nose!" she said inwardly. For Jane had a practical bent in her imaginative nature.

SHE walked up the deck

Society

Mrs. Sid Henry

Telephone 321

These Will I Cherish

They have no need of my love, the hills, the sea;
They are the chosen of eternity;
They have no need of my love, the stars that lie Sheltered from time on the breast of an ageless sky.
But the frail, the beautiful things
fore doomed to perish.
These will I cherish in my inmost heart and cherish.
The evening cloud that drifts like dusky swan Down rivers of saffron light and is quickly gone;
The soft ephemeral face of an early flower Lifted to mine in the gleam of an April shower;
The tremulous rainbow locked in a globe of dew;
The wind's bright heelprint silencing
a pool of blue;
The delicate sheen of a pigeon's slender throat, Tinged with the fires of ruby and peridot.
These will I cherish that swiftly must pass unless
The heart will draw them within its own deathlessness.—Selected.

Ferey D. Burton of Louisville was a Thursday business visitor in the city.

C. E. Hayes of Little Rock, representing the Union Central Life Insurance Co., was the Thursday night guest of his sister, Mrs. K. G. McRae and Mr. McRae.

Friends of D. W. Butler, manager of Hope Feed company, will regret to learn that he is a patient in Corn Donnell hospital in Prescott.

Mrs. K. G. McRae and Mrs. Darcy McRae were Saturday visitors in Prescott, guests of Mrs. Thos. C. McRae Sr. and Mrs. Duncan McRae.

After a visit with her mother, Mrs. A. F. Haneagan and other home folks, Mrs. H. M. Daniel has returned to her home in Houston, Texas. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Louise Haneagan, who will make her a short visit.

Mrs. Frank Drake has returned from a few days visit with relatives and friends in Prescott.

Mrs. Clyde Coffee was hostess on Thursday evening to the members of the Thursday Evening Bridge club at her attractive apartment on North Main.

Miss S. J. Smith and Miss S. J. Smith were Saturday visitors in the city.

SAEGER
Miriam Hopkins
Edw. G. Robinson
"BARBARY COAST"

SAT'S DOUBLE PROGRAM
Charles Starrett
GALLANT DEFENDER
No. 8 'Call of the Savage'

BAD BOY
by VINA DELMAR
JAMES DUNN

SUN & MON ONLY
Jean Harlow
SPENCER TRACY
GRIFF RAFF

NEW Telephone Directory goes to press
FEB. 25
Let us know... NOW
IF you want any change in your present listing
IF you want an additional listing
IF you haven't a telephone
Now is a good time to arrange for service and get your name listed in the NEW Telephone Directory
Call the business office
SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Arkansas Meets Baylor 2 Games

Razorbacks to Play at Waco Friday and Saturday Nights

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—(AP)—Arkansas will get the jump on their Southern conference basketball rivals with a sixth and seventh victory against one defeat, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks left Thursday for Waco, Texas, where they engage Baylor University's Bears in a two-game series Friday and Saturday nights.

Arkansas will be fighting for the conference lead. The team is tied with the University of Texas at five wins and one loss each. The Longhorns pulled into a tie Wednesday night through a 37-to-33 win over Rice Institute.

Coach Glen Rose took two squads, it is Arkansas's final trip. The team will return here to finish the championship race against Texas Christian and the University of Texas.

Announce Honor Roll at Henderson State

ARKADELPHIA, Ark.—Miss Louise Pilkinton of Washington, Ark., led the group of students who attained the honor roll at Henderson State Teachers college which was announced Wednesday. Miss Pilkinton made all A's.

Students who made all A's and B's are: Allie Banks, Paron; Eula Barnett, D. Springs; J. O. Burns, Little Rock; Louise Callahan, Mineral Springs; Florence Colbert, Thornton; Christine Dickson, Alhambra; Natalie Flynn, Keokuk; G. L. Gillispie, Little Rock; Paul Henderson, Malvern; Mary Louise Hubbard, El Dorado; J. W. Killingsworth, Okonango; Annie Lowery, Norphlet; Ida Marie Lowery, Mannie B. Morgan, Helena; James Pilkinton, Washington; Grace Pogue, Crossett; Martha Pugh, Earle; Nellie Rae Stokes, Reamake, Ala.; and Mary Elizabeth Spencer, El Dorado.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

JESUS HELPS A DOUBTER
Text: Luke 14:28-35
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for February 16

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

When a preacher or a teacher whose teaching is distinctive arrives in any community, almost inevitably question arises concerning him. Those who sense anything new or dangerous in his teaching are apt to be aroused, while those who are looking for some new emphasis on truth and righteousness are ready to welcome him.

It was so with Jesus, the Great Teacher, and particularly true of Him because He came to the world at a time when devout Jews were looking earnestly for the prophesied Messiah and deliverer.

John the Baptist might have aroused much questioning. However, John was insistent from the first that he was not the Messiah, but only a voice crying in the wilderness, preparing the way for the One greater than himself.

John had been cast into prison, and there had come to him the name and the fame of Jesus. He was immediately aroused. Was this man whose wonderful works were reported the Messiah for whom they were looking, or was he to be added to the number who had already professed Messiahship, only to disappoint the trust?

John took the very direct course of calling two of his disciples to Jesus himself with the question, "Art thou that cometh, or look we for another?" We must not suppose that John was credulous enough to take merely the assurance for satisfaction. He was a man of great insight, and he would have his own conclusions from the nature of the answer that Jesus would give.

The answer brought by his disciples must have impressed John at once. To Teacher whom he had questioned made no hesitating claims and gave no insistent assurances. He told the disciples of John to go and report the things they had seen and heard, that the blind were receiving sight, that the lame were walking, lepers were being cleansed, that this Teachers was doing such wonderful works, and, above all, that the people were hearing the preaching of good tidings.

John had wished to impress John other than by the reality of His teaching and His works. He might in the hearing of these disciples have expressed his proud eulogy of the prophet of the wilderness.

He wanted, however, until the message of John had gone away, and then He gave the great eulogy of John the Baptist which stands boldly in the Christian narrative and in all the records of heroic life and character as a constant reminder of a great man's faith and righteousness.

We should, perhaps, not forget that this was one of the prophetic tributes to another. The righteousness of John's life and the reality of his work had been so plain to all who knew him that he was not an old man, but a very young man.

Christianity began as a youth movement. There was something about it that was earnest, impetuous, determined. It was a movement not by men of doubt, but by men of conviction; and men of doubt found their convictions of faith developing as they came face to face with Jesus and realized what manner of man He was.

LETTERS to the Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Letters criticizing the editorial policy or commenting upon facts in the news columns, are equally welcome. Choose a topic everyone will be interested in. Be brief. Avoid personal abuse. The world's greatest critics were painfully polite. Every writer must sign his name and address.

From Old Story

Editor The Star: "He that is not for me is against me."

"To smile at the jest that plants a thorn in another's breast, is to become a part in the mischief."

To condone a crime is worse than the perpetration thereof.

"Cursed is he that putteth the bottle to his neighbor's mouth."

A vote for whisky is to smile at the jest.

A vote for whisky is to condone every crime committed under its influence.

Some whisky people argue that he will get it anyhow from a bootlegger. That is not the question here. The all-important question here is, how about you? Are you going to do your part in trying to keep it from him? Don't you think you would be happy to stand before the judgment bar of God with a clear conscience that you had done your part in trying to keep it from him? To do your part, there alone his part, and it is up to you to do yours, or suffer the consequences.

Of all the evils that ever escaped from Pandora's box whisky is king. It rules with an iron hand. It presents all the problems of life in a false light. Its mission is to destroy.

Some of the best people fall into its clutches and no matter how far down the road to degradation and ruin it takes its victim, it urges him on for more, always more is this demon's will, until at last delirium tremens, imaginary serpents, the tearing looks of fiends and the forked tongue of devils torture him until death ends his earthly sufferings.

And the state, county and town get a few dollars "revenue" out of this. It were better that every state in the Union should go bankrupt than that one. Just one man should suffer such a fate. But no state need go bankrupt by putting that evil out, as it would be a thousand times better to get this "revenue" in some other way. To license the king of evils, with all its horrors, to get a little money to pay policemen with, whose job it is to pick 'em up when they get caught in the trap, would disgrace hell in its balmy days.

In our opinion, there would be about as much sense and justice in welcoming a scourge of yellow fever. Then some might say, "Just look at the money the grave diggers are making! No doubt some would look at it in just that way. They fail to consider what it is doing for some people and the country.

When prohibition was repealed and whisky was legalized with all the "control" the state, county and town could throw around the Devil king, the depths of hell surrounded with uproar, for anybody, any boy, could get it if he had the money.

It might as well be said, we have robberies and murders, why not do away with the law against these crimes, because we have them any how? One is just as sensible as the other. If we had no law against robbery and murder any one can imagine what conditions would be. So we keep the law that we may have as little of these crimes as possible.

According to the whisky people, if you think you have reason to believe that a man is going to commit suicide, or that someone will kill him, kill him yourself. It is the duty of the strong to help the weak. There are many good people, useful people, that cannot resist temptation, and it is our duty to help them, not to put temptation in their way. One of God's strongest commands is to "shun the appearance of evil."

It is a fact that anyone should know, that the harder a thing is to get, the less of that thing will be used, and that rule applies to anything. Is it not common sense that if we cannot wipe this evil out entirely, to have just as little of it as possible. With honest and efficient officers, backed by stringent laws and public opinion, this evil would soon become well-nigh a thing of the past. We must fight this demon, or it will take charge of us. There is no neutral ground between right and wrong. "He that is not for me is against me!" It has been a fight ever since the advent of the first man upon this earth, and will be until time shall be no more.

To give up the fight because of a few bootleggers is to surrender to the Devil. The bootleggers are the Devil's agents. Let the officers do their duty, with the co-operation of the people, and there will be few or none of them.

Think well before you vote to continue this evil. It comes today to strike the crust from the lips of a starving child. It comes to despoil, to destroy, to inflict wounds without cause. It comes to drag men down below the brutes of creation. It comes to destroy respect for all law.

Vote against this evil and you will have done your part, and even if it fails, you can stand acquitted before the bar of judgment. Vote against this evil and even if it fails, you can go with Shakespeare: "Shake not thy grey locks at me. Thou canst not say I did it."

It's the people that do their part in holding the world up today and enabling you to dwell in your land safely.

Do your part and you can fear no evil. "Though you walk through the valley of the shadow of death."

Whisky is the Devil's best friend and God's greatest enemy.

OLD STORY

Emmet, Ark. R. 1.

Twice a year, the humming-bird flies over the Gulf of Mexico on its migration journeys.

Past Reputation Does Not Count

Salary Basis for Chicago Cubs Is Figured on Piece Work

CHICAGO.—(AP)—A reputation is next to worthless to the champion-ship Chicago Cubs.

They don't exactly ignore or burn out record books but, under the new basic salary system evolved by Owner Phil K. Wrigley, they are about as interested in past performances as they are in last week's sport pages.

Charles Drake, official voice for Owner Wrigley, explained the new basic salary system Thursday as he reported that every Cub had signed his 1936 contract with the exception of Augie Galan, the young outfielder who was one of the big reasons for the team's pennant dash last fall.

Tann, predicted Drake, will sign as soon as he thoroughly understands the pay-off system.

"Past reputations don't mean anything, so why should ball players get paid according to them?" asked Drake. "Our theory is that if a ball player has a great year he should be rewarded the same year, not the next. If he has a bad year, he shouldn't get a much."

"This is how the Cub basic salary system works. A player is signed, say for $8000. That figure represents his basic or minimum salary even if he isn't worth a nickel to the club. Suppose he is going great. All right, his pay is increased during the period of his streak. If he keeps on going, he'll get another boost. Then when he slumps, his pay is cut again, but never below the $8000."

Dealers Meet

ARKADELPHIA, Ark.—(AP)—Quachita and Henderson colleges will be joint host Friday to the annual mid-south debate tournament. Officials expect 125 teams from seven states to participate in the two days of competition.

NEW'S CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Gilbert Copeland, Minister

Bible classes at 10 o'clock. Preaching at 11. "What the Bible Does" will be the subject at the morning services.

Young Peoples meeting at 6 o'clock n. m. Preaching at 7. "Laying Up Treasures" will be the subject.

We are making a special appeal to the young people to attend our 6 o'clock service. We have just begun study on "Rightly Dividing the Word of Truth." The older people are invited to come and be our audience. A hearty welcome awaits you at the church for all services.

Garrett Memorial Baptist

Hollis Purcell, Pastor

We will have a singing Sunday night at 7:30. All other services as usual. Preaching every second and fourth Sunday. Singing every first and third Sunday. The public is invited.

WANTED: T. M. B. E. R.

Pine and Cypress Suitable for telephone poles and piling. F. E. CHENEY 401 S. Walnut Street

CAR GLASS

CUT AND GROUND TO FIT ANY CAR BRYAN'S USED Parts 411 South Laurel Street

WANTED

Cast Iron Scraps Arkansas Machine Specialty Co. Hope, Arkansas

BAKERY Specials!

PIES

Layer Cakes

Butter-Fly Rolls

Blue Ribbon BREAD

CITY BAKERY

A HOPE INSTITUTION

Prescott News in Brief

By DALE MCKINNEY

Mr. G. W. Knox, extension poultryman, will be in Prescott Thursday, February 20 for the purpose of organizing a Nevada County Poultry association. The meeting will be held at the courthouse at 9:30 a. m. Every one that is interested in poultry is urged to attend this meeting.

Construction of Prescott's new gymnasium will be started not later than February 24. Bob Fletcher, county engineer for the Works Progress Administration, announced at a meeting of the Young Business Men's association Tuesday night.

The Rosston Road home demonstration club will meet Tuesday, February 18, at Mrs. Joe Rogers' at 2:30.

The band concert that was postponed last Friday night will be held Friday night February 14, at the Junior High School.

The Parent-Teachers association will meet Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Junior High School.

Rev. J. F. Queen, pastor of the First Baptist church, will speak at Board's Chapel Friday, February 14, at 7:30.

G. W. Ward was arrested here Wednesday night. Ward was wanted in Gordon and Prescott for passing worthless checks. He was arrested by Chief of Police Jack Runnels.

Constantine have been elected for the debate and track meet of the Garland and Beniheth Literary Society of the Prescott High School.

Grave in Condemned Cemetery Explained

ARKADELPHIA, Ark.—(AP)—Clark county authorities announced Thursday that they had learned a fresh grave in a cemetery from which bodies had been removed by court order was that of a negro who died of natural causes.

County Judge W. H. Langston said he had been asked to furnish a cash-bet for the negro and for permission to bury him in the old memorial cemetery. Langston said he warned that burial must be made in the new cemetery.

Officers said a secret burial was held in the condemned cemetery. Coroner Bob Carter announced prosecution may result.

Medicated with ingredients of Vicks VapoRub

VICKS COUGH DROP

Valentine Candy

Elmer's Chocolate Candy at Moreland's Drug Store We stay open till 11 p. m.

Garrett Memorial Baptist

Hollis Purcell, Pastor

We will have a singing Sunday night at 7:30. All other services as usual. Preaching every second and fourth Sunday. Singing every first and third Sunday. The public is invited.

WANTED: T. M. B. E. R.

Pine and Cypress Suitable for telephone poles and piling. F. E. CHENEY 401 S. Walnut Street

CAR GLASS

CUT AND GROUND TO FIT ANY CAR BRYAN'S USED Parts 411 South Laurel Street

WANTED

Cast Iron Scraps Arkansas Machine Specialty Co. Hope, Arkansas

BAKERY Specials!

PIES

Layer Cakes

Butter-Fly Rolls

Blue Ribbon BREAD

CITY BAKERY

A HOPE INSTITUTION

Complete Testimony
LAREDO, Texas.—(AP)—Testimony was completed Thursday at Carrizo Springs in the trial of Jesus T. Wise, charged with the knife slaying of Ethel Carlos at Laredo last August 11. Arguments will be heard Friday.

An improvement program in the Oklahoma City, Okla., municipal airport includes installation of 12 floodlights for night illumination. There is one chance in 20,000,000 years of a comet striking the earth, according to astronomers.

24 Lb. SACK $1.15
10 Lb. SACK $ .55
5 Lb. SACK 30c

PATTERSON'S GROCERY

Extra Special For Friday and Saturday

SUGAR 5 Pound 25c
FLOUR SILVER WING 24 lb. 84c
Highest Patent 48 lb. $1.64

Toilet Tissue 1000 Sheets, Roll 5c
MATCHES 3 Boxes for 10c

COCOA Hershey's—1/4 lb. 5c
Sweet Potatoes 12c
Fancy—1/2 Peck.

CLEANSER Sunbrite, can 5c
Irish Potatoes 15c
Fancy—1/2 Peck.

LETTUCE Large Head 5c
APPLES, Fancy 29c
Winesap, 1/2 Peck

ORANGES 29c
GRAPEFRUIT 29c
Texas—1/2 Peck.

Louisiana Ribbon Cane 1/2 Gallon 34c
SYRUP 10 BARS 39c

CRYSTAL WHITE SOAP 10 BARS 39c
PEAS DRY Small White Lb 6c

PHILLIPS, 16 oz. Can PORK & BEANS 5c

PHONE 21 FREE DELIVERY
Many Specials Not Listed Here

SHOP AT A&P AND SAVE

8 O'CLOCK COFFEE

3 Pounds 15c
N. B. C. 45c

EXCELL CRACKERS

2 POUNDS 16c

LARGE CAN DRIED 5 LB. SACK
HOMINY APPLES SUNNYFIELD
3 for 25c Lb. 10c 15c

Good Quality BROOMS Ea. 18c

FRESH FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

GOLDEN YELLOW BANANAS—Lb 4c
LARGE LETTUCE—Head 4c
WINESAP APPLES 2 Dozen 29c
CAROTS 2 Bunches 7c
JUMBO CELERY—Stalk 12c
CAULIFLOWER—White Head Each 15c
GRAPE FRUIT, Texas—2 for 7c
ORANGES, Thin Skins—Dozen 17c
CABBAGE, Hard Heads—2 Pounds 5c

MARKET SPECIALS

BEEF ROAST Swift's Selected Lb 17c
FRESH FISH Whiting or Fillet of Haddock Lb 30c
Edam Cheese Imported Baby Gouda 1 Lb Ave. 55c

Choice LAMB LEG 25c
BACON Tall Korn Sliced Lb 30c
Spare Ribs Country Lb 15c
CHOPS Pound 29c

BEEF STEAK Loin or T-Bone Lb 15c
PORK ROAST LEAN Lb 18c
Chitterlings Pound 11c

Home Baked Ham, Fresh Brains and Oysters
Watch Our Windows For Added Specials

ENCORE MACARONI OR SPAGHETTI

Package 5c

GRANDMOTHER'S BREAD

White or Wheat 6c
16 oz. Loaf 10c
RAISIN BREAD

Token of Friendship

Horizontal

1. Missive commencing today.

2. It is occasionally a token.

3. Melody.

4. To worship.

5. Headstrong.

6. Veal.

7. Stream.

8. According to.

9. Nominal values.

10. Gaselle.

11. To ogle.

12. Type standard.

13. Because.

14. Recurring.

15. Soft mass.

16. Enamel.

17. Hastened.

18. Crystalline substance.

19. Upon.

20. A — (pl.).

21. Soft brooms.

22. Seed bag.

23. Vulgar fellow.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

A SAMUEL DEPICTED
DRONY RIO RECUR
MEAT ROLLS TUNA
INK RESTORE DIN
RT BE NW OK
A PAN SAMUEL GAS N
LOOSE PEPYS LITHE TO SIV TIS AS Y DOE CITY S
ME ROMPISH OD
REAR NOOSE IDOL
INLAY PAL ARENA
AUTHORS EXPLAINED

Vertical

1. Shoe upper.

2. Region.

3. Prevaricator.

4. Devours.

5. Mark to shoot at.

6. Cast of a language.

7. New star.

8. Before.

9. Verbal.

11. Masculine.

12. Small island.

13. Cupid is a favorite — on these tokens.

14. Mistake.

15. Grazed.

16. To mature.

17. Skillet.

18. Grain.

19. To perish.

20. Wayside hotel.

21. Pale.

22. Wakes from sleep.

23. To ransack.

24. Human junk.

25. Bulk.

26. Olive shrub.

27. Fairy.

28. Observed.

29. Needy.

30. Malice.

31. Entrance.

32. Half.

33. Hour.

34. Membranous bag.

1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10. 11. 12. 13.

14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30.

31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60.

BARBS

Men and women equal? The former have to go out and fight for election; all women have to do is to wed trail congressmen.

The old-time rounder has given away to the modern "rounder and rounder."

"They're dark horses to the electorate, but to the party, they're night-mares."

Only those who have had fellows with colds roar in their faces can really understand that phrase, "Infectious laughs."

That Boston clug is now known as the "Boston Bees," which seems just a change of tense. They were has-beens.

The president is doing exactly what Al Smith recommended. All said to throw the alphabet out of the window three letters at a time. The president is going him one better, hrowing them out three acts at a time.—Representative R. F. Rich, Pennsylvania.

MARKET PLACE

Remember, the more you tell, the quicker you sell.

1 time, 10c line, min. 30c

For consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad

3 times, 6c line, min. 50c

6 times, 5c line, min. 90c

26 times, 3½c line, min. $2.70

(Average 5½ words to the line)

NOTE—Want ads will be accepted with the understanding that the full is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication.

Phone 768

SERVICES OFFERED

LOVE-BUSINESS PROBLEMS? Expert advice. Write details, send quarter, stamped address envelope Box 102, Grank Central Annex, New York, N. Y. 14-6ty

NOTICE

$25.00 reward for the arrest of party who stole mirror and light fixtures out of bathroom in brick building at 600 S. Main St. Floyd Porterfield.

WANTED

WANTED—Fat Hogs, any size. J. V. Moore. 6-TN

FOR SALE

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Carload of young mules, cattle preferred in trade. D. B. Russell. Phone 408. 20-26tc.

FOR SALE—250 mules, mares, saddle horses, Shetland ponies, Stallions, and twenty Jacks. All stock guaranteed. We deliver in trucks free of charge. Windle Bros., Texarkana, Texas. 12-26tc

FOR SALE—1933 Chevrolet Sport coupe. Rumble seat, in A-1 condition. No trade in. Phone 213-W. —123tp.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Modern five room house, with good garden spot, close in. See Carl Smith at City Cafe. 12-3tp

FOR RENT—Place on Hope and Blevins road. See Jim Reed at Polk Singleton Store. 12-2tp

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By AHERN

NOW, IS THERE ANYBODY ELSE, JAKE? —WE'VE TRIED EVERYBODY HERE, BUT NO DICE! I STARTED WITH AN OFFER OF A THIRD INTEREST IN OUR WHISTLE LLOLLOP BUSINESS FOR $1000—AN I'VE WHITTLED IT DOWN TO $200—

THEY'S ONE MORE HERE, GUS—MY SISTERN-LAW, MRS HOOPLE!—BUT YOU'RE WALKIN' TIGHTROPE WITH A BOX OF DYNAMITE THERE! UM-M-HMP—SHED BUST YOUR EARDRUM, YELLING NO, IF YOU CALLED HER UP LONG DISTANCE!—BETTER LET ME DO IT, GUS—HOW IS IT THEY FACE TIGERS?—OH, YEH—WITH A CHAIR!

YES, JAKE, AND LOOK HER IN THE EYE!

2-14

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAMS

GOLLY! WE GOT HIM SO CLEAN AN' NICE, IT'S A SHAME TO PUT HIM IN THAT OL' DIRTY, SHABBY, BUSTID WAGON. HE LOOKS SO MUCH ABOVE THAT

HE WONT, BY TH' TIME YOU GET HIM OUT THERE, AND IN IT—HE'LL LOOK LIKE HE WAS BORN IN IT

BACK TO THE 'SOIL

JR WILLIAMS 2-14

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

OOH! GEE-EEE. AM I HAPPY!

A Good Talking Too

By MARTIN

WELL—LL—OK! BE HAPPY—SURE. NO ONE COULD BLAME YOU FOR THAT—WHAT GIRL WOULDN'T BE HAPPY WITH A REAL PRINCE, LIKE MR. X, LIKING HER! BUT—BUT—

DON'T BE A FOOL! KEEP YOUR HEAD AND DON'T LET YOUR IMAGINATION RUN AWAY WITH YOU! YOU'VE THOUGHT THE WHOLE THING OVER AND OVER AND DECIDED, LONG AGO, WHAT YOU SHOULD DO! THAT'S YOUR STORY! NOW, STICK TO IT, YOU—YOU—DOGGONE YOU!

ALLEY OOP

HULLO THERE, ALLEY OOP AN' FOOPY—WHATCHA DOIN' DOWN HERE? WHERE YUH GOIN'?

WE'RE GOIN' DOWN INTO TH' PIT!

WELL, FER—WHATCHA GONNA DO DOWN THERE?

WHEN WE GIT DOWN INTO TH' PIT, THERE'LL BE NOTHIN' FER US TOO BUT SIT!

Strange Behavior

By HAMLIN

SAY—WHASSA MATTER WITH YOU GUYS?...HAVE Y' LOST YER MINDS?

NAW, Y' YAP—ONLY OUR LIBERTY!

THIS BEATS ANYTHING I EVER HEARD OF. THERE AINT NO TEN MEN IN MOO THAT CO PUT ALLEY OOP INTO THAT PIT—BUT THERE HE IS!!

WASH TUBBS

GLORY BE! CHASIN' BANK ROBBERS! ANY WE GIVE OUTER GAS, WO THE SAM HILL WE GUNNER DO, NOW?

WE'LL GO BACK TO TOWN AN' GET EASY'S PLANE.

PRECIOUS TIME IS WASTED BEFORE EASY IS FOUND.

QUICK, BOY, GIT YER AIR-PLANE. WE'LL GIT THEM ROBBERS, YIT.

The Search Goes On

LOOK FER A GREEN SEDAN. WE'LL COVER EVERY ROAD FER 200 MILES.

DO YOU SEE 'EM?

NO. GETTING TOO DARK, BY THE WAY, LULU BELLE, DID YOU NOTIFY THE POLICE IN OTHER TOWNS TO BE ON THE LOOKOUT?

HOLY SMOKE! I PLUMB FORGOT!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

WELL, FELLAS, IT LOOKS AS IF WE'VE LOST OUR LITTLE DYNAMITE!

YEP... IT KINDA LOOKS THAT WAY!

WE'LL HAVE TO FIND OUT WHERE THOSE CARNIVAL PEOPLE TOOK HIM, AND THEN FIGURE OUT A WAY TO GET HIM BACK!!

I UNDERSTAND IT'S AN INDOOR CARNIVAL, AND IT TRAVELS FROM ONE TOWN TO ANOTHER... IT'LL BE HARD TO LOCATE!!

WE'VE JUST GOT TO FIND IT, THO!

HOW ABOUT GETTING MR. SNITZ, THE DETECTIVE, TO HELP US FIND DYNAMITE?

WE CAN TRY, BUT HE'S NOT SO HOT!

DOWN AT THE DRUG STORE, THEY TOLD ME THAT MR. SNITZ NEVER HAS BEEN VACCINATED, BECAUSE, IN ALL HIS LIFE, HE NEVER CAUGHT A THING!!

By BLOSSER

SPECIAL NURSE—Myra North

SPIKE! LET ME CALL A DOCTOR! YOU'RE—I-I-MEAN, YOU'RE VERY ILL!

NO USE—THE BIG SHOT WOULDN'T HEAR OF IT—

BESIDES—I'M ABOUT A GONER—IT WON'T BE LONG, NOW

I'LL GO ASK HIM, ANYWAY!

By THOMPSON & COLL

BUT, I TELL YOU, THE MAN IS DESPERATELY ILL—HE'S DYING!

I SAID NO DOCTOR! NOW, SCRAM—AND KEEP YOUR MOUTH SHUT!

OH, NURSE! COME HERE—QUICK! SOMETHING I GOTTA TELL YOU!

QUIET, SPIKE—I'M COMING

DICTATOR---That's ME!

Call Me the Evil One---But I Got the Balance of Power!

Are you going to vote for the bootlegger...for the racketeer... for organized crime?

OR ARE YOU GOING TO VOTE FOR TEMPERANCE AND RESPECT FOR LAW?

WE CAN VOTE THE WAY THE BOOTLEGGER WANTS US TO VOTE!

We can promise the bootlegger that we will play ball with him . . . that we won't interfere with his vast criminal liquor business. That's what we have done during Prohibition . . . we have watched millions of our dollars support our criminal element in luxury . . . while we ourselves struggle to pay taxes for legitimate purposes. We can say to the bootlegger . . . "Here are our children; you educate them into disrespect for law. We can't stop you, so you might as well continue serving them your posionous drinks . . . they are at an age when it is smart to break the law, when it is an adventure to drink in secret." And the bootlegger will be delighted because here are new customers . . . new dollars to finance his traffic . . . new dollars with which to corrupt those who stand in his way. The bootlegger will be very happy indeed if you will vote for him!

OR, WE CAN VOTE TRUE TEMPERANCE AND LAW AND ORDER!

We can uphold the package-liquor store law. It will do what the prohibitionists do not pretend they can do---keep the bootlegger out of business! A vote for the package-liquor store will put thousands of dollars in taxes from legal liquors to work for the good of our state . . . dollars that will cover the cost of enforcing the liquor regulations and will relieve the land of the tax burden built up under prohibition. . . . And it will mean that drinking will be kept out in the open where it can be controlled by the force of public opinion . . . where education for true temperance can be effective!

Let's protect our children against the example of lawlessness by their elders! Let's uphold law and order. Vote for the package store law. Keep the bootlegger OUT . . . KEEP LAW AND ORDER IN!

THIS IS NOT AN ADVERTISEMENT---BUT AN EDITORIAL PAGE PRESENTED BY A. H. WASHBURN AND HOPE STAR, WHICH PUBLISHES BOTH SIDES FREE

A Vote for the Present Law is a Vote for Order and Good Citizenship

Bruno Cracks in Prison Interview

Condemned Man in Tears as He Talks With Famed Lawyer

TRENTON, N. J.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann broke down and "cried like a baby" Thursday afternoon in a hysterical death house interview with Samuel Leibowitz, noted criminal lawyer, said to have received a $10,000 retainer from the socially well known Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean.

Neither Leibowitz nor Bruno's wife, Mrs. Ann Hauptmann, who was present at the meeting, would reveal if Hauptmann had confessed.

That Leibowitz's purpose in talking to Hauptmann on the first anniversary of his conviction in Flemington was to seek to obtain the "true story," was frankly admitted by the New York lawyer.

Only a week ago he conferred with Gov. Harold G. Hoffman on the subject. Last Sunday, Leibowitz admitted Thursday he visited Mrs. McLean with a similar purpose. Meanwhile, the motherly hostess also held a long conference with the New Jersey governor at her estate near Washington, D. C.

Interview "Satisfactory"

When Mrs. Hauptmann, smiling, and Leibowitz, solemn and tense, stepped back into the reception room of the late prison, the lawyer held up his hands for silence.

"This is all I am to say," Leibowitz began in a grave voice. "I've just had a very satisfactory interview with Bruno in the presence of Mrs. Hauptmann and he broke down and cried like a child. It was very gratifying, in coming to see him again on Sunday."

Swiftly Leibowitz whispered a word to Mrs. Hauptmann and walked out of the prison. As the iron doors swung open, a reporter shouted, "Mr. Leibowitz, did Hauptmann confess?"

"I have no comment," Leibowitz replied.

"Did he alter his story in any way?"

"I have told you the interview was satisfactory," Leibowitz replied.

Mrs. Hauptmann, asked the same questions, smiled wanly and refused to answer.

When the crocodile dove, he closes his eyes and looks through his eyelids.

25 Indicted On Gambling Charges

Alleged Gambling Ring in Pulaski County Is Aired

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—Concluding a three-day investigation of gambling in Little Rock, the Pulaski county grand jury returned 25 indictments late Thursday and adjourned until February 18.

None of the indictments were made public. Sheriff L. B. Branch said warrants would be issued immediately and his deputies were instructed to attempt to make arrests Thursday night.

The grand jury also dismissed two cases before it, neither of which were connected with the gambling probe. How many of the 25 indictments concerned the vice investigation could not be determined immediately.

Six Little Rock aldermen, members of the police committee of the city council, appeared before the grand jury Thursday afternoon. The jurors also questioned seven more Little Rock and North Little Rock policemen and several others.

The council's police committee will begin its independent investigation today afternoon of an assertion that a gambling ring controls law enforcement here. Alderman Jack Pickens, chairman, said method of procedure in the investigation had not been determined and it was uncertain whether the proceedings would be public or star chamber.

Thursday's activities by the grand jury brought to 37 the number of witnesses questioned in the gambling probe—reported by officials to be an all-time high on the subject.

Oil Man Falls Dead in Nashville Cafe

NASHVILLE, Ark.—H. F. Allen, 71, fell from a stool on a cafe here Wednesday night and died a few minutes later. He had ordered supper and was talking with Mrs. H. B. Caruth, manager.

He came to Nashville last November to check reports on possibility of oil being found here and had been organizing a lease block east of here. He came here from Portland, Me. He is survived by a son, Donald Allen of Denver, Col. The body is being held here awaiting information from relatives.

Manufacturing labor costs at present about 10 per cent of the selling price of planes now on the market.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Special for this week

5-tube RADIO

Made by G-E $9.98

Has Airplane Dial

Complete With Tubes

BRIANT'S Drug Store

AUTO LOANS

Confidential, Prompt.

TOM KINER

On Cotton Row

HEMPSTEAD COUNTY OWNERSHIP MAPS

Correct as of January 1, 1936

Paper $10 Linen $15

Byers Abstract Co.

C. BYERS Washington, Ark.

You will find us on Elm Street

next door to Arkansas Natural Gas

Office. Across from Barlow Hotel.

COME TO SEE US.

THE GIFT SHOP

(Mrs. C. P. Holland)

Bargain 15 pounds

WASHING 49¢

NEW PAINT WORK SERVICE

NEELSON-HUCKINS

LAUNDRY COMPANY

No friction, no wear, our cleaning with modern equipment means thorough cleaning.

Hall Bros

CLEANERS & HATTERS

World's Tiniest Babe; One Pound

Weighting exactly one pound at birth, her head only slightly larger than a regulation tennis ball, the world's smallest baby, Nancy Ann Vogel, shown here with the ruler indicating how tiny she is, probably will develop into a normal, healthy baby, Oakland, Calif., doctors say. The child, born two months prematurely, is enclosed in cotton in an incubator and is given 30 drops of milk an hour from an eye dropper.

Hollywood

By Paul Harrison

HOLLYWOOD—"Whoa-ho-ho-ho!" happily carried Mr. Mike Riley as he led a cavalcade with circles on it—a little number known to the haberdashery trade as the "Round-and-Around Tie."

"I pushed the first valve down, whoa-ho!" echoed Mr. Eddie Farley, entering with a rush and some bundles.

"Bey, ol' Hollywood has got me. Look it!" Out came a pair of thick-soled suede oxfords. Out came a dark brown gaucho shirt. Out came a light brown foulard scarf with circles on it—a little number known to the trade at the "Round-and-Around Scarf."

"Hoi!" asked Mr. Farley.

"Wackey!" agreed Mr. Riley. "Sure 'nough in the movies now."

"I got to laugh," said Mr. Farley. "Columbia has a picture, and it pays good cash money for a title, 'Rolling Along.' And the picture is finished—wrapped up, see?—and Marry Richman is back in New York, and—"

"And we gotta song," interposed Mr. Riley.

"And we gotta song," accented Mr. Farley. "And then they buy the song, and they buy it, and they pay good cash money for another title, 'The Music Goes 'Round.' And the bring back Harry Richman. And they change the picture around—"

"Whoa-ho-ho-ho!" warbled Mr. Riley, out of habit. Or sheer exuberance.

"—and we come out here!"

Was Riley Mortified!

"Like it? Boy, we love it! Hollywood, here we are! Train was four hours late. Blizzards. We got off the train and we go play golf. We go to the studio and they have a conference. And—"

"—and the conference goes 'round and 'round-n-d. We took a screen test."

"That test!" exclaimed Mr. Riley. "My nose!"

"Don't worry," soothed Mr. Farley. "It'll get a laugh. Look at Durante!"

"You look at Durante, you and your Hollywood profile. That nose will likely send us right back to the Onyx Club on Fifth-second street in Manhattan."

"Wasn't so bad, was it? Offered us a $200 raise, didn't they? And an interest in the joint when we started to quit? Remember?"

All Very Wackey

"Remember how they jammed the place?—society sittin' on orange crates; people 10 deep on the sidewalk. Remember the 'R-r-r-ip van Winkle' business, and we wouldn't stop until they'd ripped every tablecloth in the joint, and the boss standin' around pullin' out his hair. And those $50 telegrams on the Vallee hour, that proved we had a hit. And—"

"Plenty hot," admitted Mr. Farley.

"And wackey!" insisted Mr. Riley. "We got a new song, 'You're Wackey, You're Wackey, You're Wackey.' Something like that."

"Man wants to know about you," reminded Mr. Farley.

"Then I'll tell him about you," reminded Mr. Riley. "Eddie's the pride of Newark, N. J. His papa made him practice on the violin and his sister on the cornet. They were both terrible, so they traded instruments. Eddie did all right after that; at least, he was playing for a living when we met in Kansas City and teamed up."

"And old married man—two kids, one 7, one 7 months. Wife was a D. C. trait girl. Home girl, too; she never did come to the Onyx Club when we played there. Eddie would do six shows at the Paramount, and four recording, and a night at the club, and then he'd come clear out to East Orange. He's the only—"

"I'll tell you about Mike," said Eddie. "He lived in Fall River, Mass. He played in a Boy Scout band. And you know what he played?—he played a piccolo. You know why he quit playing the piccolo?—it didn't make enough noise. He too up the trombone."

"Mike's an old married man, too, just one kid, and with a much smaller nose. Mike's wife came to the Onyx Club just once, but left right away. She thinks we're both crazy."

"C'mon, Eddie, we got to get around Hollywood. 'Round and around—"

"Whoa-ho-ho-ho-ho!"

It is estimated that automobile sales in rural districts in 1935 were 35 per cent greater than in the previous year.

Legion Commander Visits Arkansas

Murphy Warns Veterans Against Wasting Bonus Money

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—National Commander Ray Murphy pointed the American Legion toward a renewed program of service Thursday night as he hailed enactment of legislation for payment of the adjusted service certificates as attainment of a great objective "now behind us."

He addressed Little Rock veterans at a banquet postponed until Thursday night because of the national commander's delayed arrival here due to northern wintry weather causing his train to run several hours behind schedule.

Murphy urged a campaign of militant Americanism, a program of peace, renewed child welfare activity, a battle to make American highways and streets safe, community service and devoted care and protection of World War disabled.

The national commander appealed to veterans against wasting money received from the bonus with a plea that they spend it on things of a permanent nature or to pay debts.

He called on the Legion to supply the national impetus for a campaign of safety on the highways and streets where he said 30,000 persons were killed in 1935 traffic accidents. A drive, for education and reasonable but safe traffic laws, vigorously enforced, was recommended.

Hope was expressed that the present congress will enact legislation providing for widows and orphans of veterans. He voiced belief that the lawmakers would approve neutrality laws and a universal service law, which he said with the Legion's third annual of adequate national defense would make it highly unlikely that we shall be dragged into another war, if one is started as now seems probable.

Order Payment of Old AAA Contracts

Payment Will Cover Contracts in Effect Prior to January 6

LITTLE ROCK—(P)—E. D. White, former chairman of the state cotton allotment board under the now defunct AAA, announced Thursday receipt of notice from Washington that checks will be mailed soon to cover all AAA contracts in effect prior to January 6.

C. C. Randall, acting assistant director of the Arkansas extension service, notified county agents Thursday that work under the Bankhead act be halted Saturday.

White said no information was received regarding subsidy payments to cotton farmers but that details now are being worked out at Washington and payments will be made as soon as possible.

Business Better Than in 5 Years

United States C. of C. President Expresses Optimism

NEW YORK—(AP)—Harper Sibley, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, said Thursday that the economic condition of the nation, "despite the disturbing factors" of government, is at the highest level in the past five years.

"It is a pleasure," Sibley said, in addressing the Life Underwriters' Association of New York city, "to be able to point to some new high records in business."

"Most shoes were turned out than in any earlier year. More wool went into manufacturers than in any other peace-time year. We can conclude that the 128,000,000 people now in the United States were better shod and better clothed than for many a year."

Steel Upturn

The steel industry, at the end of 1935, Sibley said, had returned to employment at pre-depression volume with wage rates "as high as were ever."

QUALITY SEEDS - PLANTS

Everything for Field and Garden including supplies, insecticides, spray materials, etc.

For Heavy Yields Use SEMESAN

Mont's Seed Store

110 E. 2nd St.

For All Kinds of INSURANCE See Roy Anderson and Company

COMMON OLD ITCH Is Still With Us

Proscription No. 200,000 will cure it. It kills the parasites in the skin.

50c

JOHN S. GIBSON Drug Company

"The Rexall Store"

Phone 63

Established 1885

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

THERE is a superstition in Turkey and other eastern countries that death comes when a house is completed. And so dwellings are always being repaired or enlarged to forestall the inevitable.

Even the enlightened Sultan of Turkey harbored this belief, and to his immense palace always grew an imposing structure of Marmara marble, stretching for hundreds of yards along the Bosphorus.

Inside and out, gorgeous frescoes adorn it, but here again tradition has forbidden the use of a single living being in paint or sculpture. Within its more than 300 halls and chambers are magnificent apartments that once housed the former sultan's harem. In the center a large dome of red glass throws rays of fiery hue over a spacious hall.

A picture of this palace may be seen, with a portrait of the late sultan Mohammed VI, on stamps of Turkey used between 1916 and 1918.

WANTED—HEADING BOLTS

White Oak—Whisky and Oil grade. Overcup, Post Oak and Red Oak. Round Sweet Gum Blocks. For prices and specifications, See HOPE HEADING COMPANY, Phone 245 Hope, Ark.

Home Owned

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Home Operated

Rowe Ready to Begin Teaching Ball at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, arrived Thursday night to assume his duties as instructor at the Hot Springs Baseball School and "to get in a little conditioning" before reporting to the Detroit spring training camp at Lakeland, Fla.

no longer necessary. There are two very broad questions of public policy that seem to me to be of paramount importance in this quest.

"First, I should mention the need of sound fiscal policies. So long as we have public spending continue in excess of public revenues, we are exposed to a whole series of threats for the future.

666 SALVE for COLDS

Liquid-Tablets Salve-Nose Drops

price 5c, 10c, 25c

PHONE 266

FREE DELIVERY

CELERY—Large Stadk—Each.....15c

LETTUCE—Jumbo Head.....6c

TEXAS GRAPE FRUIT—Dozen.....43c

POTATOES U. S. No. 1 10 Lbs 21c

REX PEABERRY COFFEE 4 Lb. Milk 79c